A Button : Opens command windows, selects options and letters of characters' names.

SORPIGAL

The path to the Inner Sanctum is wrought with danger. Riddles must ye solve before the labyrinth will release you, but beware, for beasts be in wait to feast upon unwary travelers.

Do you still wish to continue? Very well.

From the town of Sorpugal, shall your adventure begin. All that you will need can be found there. Call upon the shopkeepers and examine their wares, you may find something you might later require. Talk to all you meet, shopkeepers and townspeople alike - there is always one who keeps an open ear. Remember, tongues flow more freely with a little persuasion. Listen closely, or else you may miss important clues.

INN

It would be wise of you to visit first the town INN. Return often, for there will be others there who will wish to join you.

Here you will also be given an option to SAVE GAME. You may choose this and temporarily end your adventure. Whenever you are ready to continue, your game will be restored.

TRAINING GROUNDS

Ample experience levels must be attained before the secrets of the Inner Sanctum can be unearthed. The TRAINING GROUNDS will aid in your promotion... for a fee, of course. Upon entrance, the training master will greet you and inform you of how many experience points (E.P.) are required to gain your next level. Upon advancement, your magic users shall automatically possess all of the spell casting knowledge for their levels.

THE TAVERN

When thirst o'ertakes you, the TAVERN offers refreshments. Leave tips, rumors may make their way towards you.

THE BLACKSMITH

A vast assortment of items, weapons, and armory are displayed within the chambers of the BLACKSMITH's shop. All of the equipment for your journey can be obtained there. Also, the BLACKSMITH will buy any items you feel are no longer necessary. However, he will only purchase them at half the original cost.

THE HOUSE

Yours is a perilous trek, and you cannot expect to travel unscathed. Go to the Clerics when you have been injured. They possess knowledge to restore the dead, remove blindness and paralysis, and cure any ills which might befall your party.

Offer them gold - they have been known to strengthen men, or give vital hints with the proper persuasion.

THE GUILD

Once an ancient sect known only to assassins and thieves, the GUILD is a secret society rumored for its services to change the identities of those who wish to remain unknown. It can only be found within the limits of Sorpugal.

Whatever you wish to alter - be it name, race, gender, class or alignment - the Guild Master will advise you your options.

EULARD'S FINE FOOD

When stomachs' growl, and your sacks are empty, stop by this shop for sustenance. Eulard offers tasty foods for low prices. Make sure to stock-up, for no adventurer will fight for long in the cold dungeons with an empty stomach.

MAPPING

The roads you shall travel writhe and twist. Take heed, one wrong turn may take you through the same path many times over. Make your way slowly and mark your course, lest you lose yourself in the mazes of the land of Varn.

The SELECT button displays the Auto-Map. This map lays out the explored territory of the party's immediate surroundings. Pressing SELECT again, will restore your adventure.

It is wise, when you travel, to take note of your surroundings. Many a doomed traveller forgot his destination, lost the location of a checkpoint, or happened upon the same trap twice!

Remember always the sorcerer's "Locate" spell. Precision is important, and this spell will give the exact location of your party.

MENU

During your travels, options are available to aid in your discovery of the Inner Sanctum's secrets.

SEARCH : Explore your surroundings with this command. Search the area after battle and you may find a treasure-filled sack or chest.

OPEN : Locked doors may bar your path and keep you from what lies beyond. A robber should best attempt to open it with this command.

ROW : Rearrange your party's marching order.

CAMP : When hit points are low, and you are in need of rest, set up camp and regain your strength. Another menu of options will also be displayed.

SPEED : Adjust game speed with this option.

CAST : Magic has many uses. This option will allow spells to be cast when not in battle.

USE : Items may be used outside of battle with this command.

VIEW : Character profile and inventory are displayed.

PROT : Protection is important for survival. Any dangers from which your party is guarded against, can be seen with this command.

DANGER LURKS...

'Round every corner and past each doorway, a beast may lie in wait. Down dark passageways you may chance upon creatures and strangers and special places - always be on guard!

Each encounter you engage in will bring you one step closer and a few gold pieces richer, to what you seek. However, take heed and do not foolishly battle creatures too powerful for your party to defeat.

Encounters will produce the following options:

ATTACK : Battle preparations are made and a combat option screen will appear.

BRIBE : Offer the creatures a bribe. If they accept you will be relieved of their presence, however, you will receive no EP. If they do not accept, prepare to fight!

RUN : You may try to escape to a safe place nearby, however, if none lies close at hand, prepare for combat.

GIVE UP : Surrenders all of your party's gold, gems, and food. If accepted by the beasts, you will be left undisturbed.

Be wary, for monsters may ambush you and take your party directly into battle. Or you may stumble across a group of creatures which you may fight or avoid.

You will encounter a variety of creatures, each with their own unique abilities, attacks, speeds, and armor classes. Packs as large as 15, can be found traveling together.

BATTLE PLANS

Going into combat, you will be given these options:

- AUTO : You automatically fight using the battle choice best suited for that member.
- FIGHT : Whatever weapon your member is equipped with is used to combat the enemy.
- SHOOT : If you are equipped with a firing weapon, you can trigger its use with this.
- BLOCK : An attempt to shield a member from a creature's attack. The creature is not affected.
- ROW : Re-organize your party members during battle.
- CAST : Magic users can cast combat spells.
- USE : Members may use items from their backpacks.
- VIEW : Reveals the status of your party member.
- PROT : Reveals any protection spells cast over the party.
- RUN : An attempt to retreat. If unsuccessful, the member cannot choose another option.

When you select FIGHT, SHOOT, or CAST, use the arrow to indicate the enemy(s)/member(s) to be affected. If you select a spell that affects more than one enemy or member, place the cursor on the character to be targeted; the cursor will automatically move down the menu, showing the character being affected. The number of characters affected will depend on the type of spell cast.

THE DUST SETTLES

Until one side or the other retreats or is defeated, battle continues. When the dust has settled and the battle is over, the number of EP gained by each surviving member is shown. Injured members receive no EP.

Before moving a square, SEARCH the battle area. Sacks and chests, filled with treasure, may have been left behind by some fleeing creature. Your cleric should check it for any traps or magic. Robbers are best skilled to open items with traps, but any member can open items with no traps.

You may now continue your journey, or set up camp and heal members with low HP or MP. You should also try out any items obtained from battle. However, be cautious of items that may be cursed. Cursed items, sometimes, may only affect certain races or classes. The House of Clerics can remove any cursed items which may have been equipped.

SETTING UP CAMP

Weary travelers must rest in order to regain strength. Once you decide to set up camp you will notice that one unit of food will decrease from each member, also hit points and magic points will be restored. You may even have members who have "Gone Down" returned to normal health.

But do not allow yourselves to be taken off guard. Remember, all protection spells will wear off during the night, and you must recast them once you awaken.

No camping area is completely safe. Monsters may attack the camp while everyone is asleep. However, you may still fight them off. If your chosen camp site is too dangerous, you will not be allowed to set up there.

Once refreshed you will be given these options:

- EQUIP : Any item from your backpack can be equipped with this command.
- REMOVE : Any equipped item can be removed and placed into your backpack.
- TRADE : Should you find yourself in need of an item, you can always trade with someone in your party who carries it.
- DROP : If your backpack is full of items you no longer need, you can always discard it along the way.
- SHARE : Gold, food, or gems can be shared with one another. You must select the "rate" by which these items are distributed.

You need not always rest to display these options. Upon choosing the "CAMP" option, you will be asked if you wish to rest. Although no hit points will be recovered if you answer "No", the camp options menu will be displayed.

GATHERING YOUR PARTY

Each member of your party is necessary for the performance of certain duties. Race, class, alignment, and sex are all part of a member's personality make-up. Each member is unique and builds attributes differently. Keep this in mind when choosing each new member.

RACE

Varn is rich with an assortment of races from across the land. Each race has its own special abilities and attributes:

HUMAN : Although they are only of average ability, they are extremely resistant to Fear and Sleep Spells.

ELF : Lacking in strength and speed, they are an intelligent race with a keen eye for accuracy with a bow weapon. They are also highly resistant to Fear.

DWARF : Poisons are ineffective against the stalwart Dwarves. What they lack in intellect, is replaced by their weapons accuracy and luck.

GNOME : Luck is always with them. Accuracy and speed are not their strong points, however, Magic Spells have no effect against these wee warriors.

HALF-ORC : Strong and accurate in combat, these fighters lack intelligence, personality, and luck. They are also not affected by Sleep Spells.

CLASS

It would be wise to travel with members of varied profession they may prove to be of great use during your adventure. Remember also that, higher endurance increases the maximum number of HP gained per level. One never knows what might be encountered on the path to the Inner Sanctum.

PALADIN (PA): Prime Attributes: Might, Personality, Endurance

HP Gained Per Level: 1 - 10 / Spell Casting Skills: Clerical, at higher levels.

In legends, Paladins hailed as knightly court champions, protecting the honors of their lieges. Loyal and devout, these staunch defenders are trained to use any weapon, armor, or item unless designed for another class. In combat, his only weakness is the usage of firing weapons.

CLERIC (CL): Prime Attribute: Personality

HP Gained Per Level: 1 - 8 / Spell Casting Skills: Clerical, for defense and healing.

Primarily valued for their knowledge of healing and defensive magics, Clerics are also capable fighters. Chainmail or lighter armor gives them the mobility to cast their spells. Although they are limited to a club, mace, flail, staff, or great hammer, they are able to carry shields.

KNIGHT (KN): Prime Attribute: Might

HP Gained Per Level: 1 - 12

Spell Casting Spells: None

Trained from birth in the art of warfare, Knights are unparalleled in combat. Capable of using any weapon, item, or armor unless designed for another class, they are formidable opponents on the battlefield. Knights, at higher levels, gain the ability to attack more than once per round.

ARCHER (AR): Prime Attributes: Intellect, Accuracy

HP Gained Per Level: 1 - 10

Spell Casting Skills: Sorcerer, at higher levels.

Highly skilled with firing weapons, especially bows, Archers are beneficial to any party. Since both hands must be free for ready access to their bow, it is difficult for them to carry shields. They are able with any weapon, unless intended for another class, and are most comfortable in chain mail or lighter armor.

SORCERER (SO): Prime Attribute: Intellect

HP Gained Per Level: 1 - 6

Spell Casting Skills: Sorcerer, for offense and combat.

Powerful magicians capable of calling forces into being, Sorcerers are best used in combat. Although their only physical weapons are a club, dagger, or staff, their spell casting knowledge increases as experience and magic levels increase. They are limited to padded armor and cannot carry a shield.

ROBBER (RO): Prime Attribute: None

HP Gained Per Level: 1 - 8

Spell Casting Skills: None

Usually not considered desirable company, Robbers are useful nonetheless. Their talent to pick locks, and disarm traps make them invaluable to the party. Not overly skilled in weapons usage, they are fairly able with slings, crossbows, and all other one handed weapons. Their armor is limited to ring mail and a shield.

ATTRIBUTES

There are 7 vital attributes possessed by each member. They determine the skills and classes, by a random rating (between 3 and 18) given for each attribute. Ratings may also be affected by battle experiences and encounters.

INTELLECT : A member's general knowledge. Usually lower for fighters. Spell Casters and archers must possess high ratings for effective spell usage.

MIGHT : Essential for Knights and Paladins, it measures the overall strength of a member affecting damage inflicted in battle.

PERSONALITY : A little charm can go a long way. A member's charisma can aid in obtaining information and increasing the spell casting ability of Clerics and Paladins.

ENDURANCE : Might is not all that is required in battle. How well a member can withstand an enemy onslaught is just as important. Stamina is needed to gain HP.

SPEED : Being quick and agile can make a difference between capture and survival. Armor classes and dodging battle blows improve with speed. The quickest always attack first.

ACCURACY : Battles may be long and difficult, if creatures are not disposed of rapidly. Combat blows should be delivered swiftly and with deadly aim. Accuracy determines the success of your strikes.

LUCK : Luck is a choosy partner and is often unpredictable. If he should choose to ride upon your shoulders, your chances of succeeding greatly increase. But should Fortune turn his back, you may find yourself in dire straits.

ALIGNMENT

You will discover many things about yourself and others during your adventures. There will be members whose natures can shift from Good to Evil, or remain Neutral.

Encounters, battles, and spells may alter a companions alignment. Locations and items, inclined towards Good or Evil, may also be encountered. Members of opposite alignment cannot enter those areas or equip a found item. Neutral members may enter a restricted place, but cannot equip restricted items.

GENDER

Choose from male and female companions. Neither is physically stronger than the other. Nevertheless, it would be wise to include both.

AGE

18 years is a tender age to attempt a journey such as this. However, it will take many years to fully uncover the Inner Sanctum's secrets. Each level you gain and each 100th camp you set up will age you 1 more year. Spells and attacks can also increase your age.

Beware of the Youth Spell when you encounter it. Should you cast it and fail, you may find yourself even older.

CHARACTER STATUS

CONDITIONS

Encounters with various monsters can leave you injured after a battle. Attacks, curses, and traps may befall you, wounding your party. Your Cleric should have spells to cure most of these conditions, if not, a visit to a House Cleric is in order.

- O.K. : Your normal condition.
- ASLEEP : Should you succumb to a Sleep Spell, you will be momentarily disabled. Rest, Awaken Spells, and becoming the victim of another attack should rouse you from sleep.
- BLIND : Watch out for creatures who attempt to blind you. Your attack effectiveness will be reduced, if they succeed.

- SILENCE : Affecting only your magic users, they will not be able to cast any spells for a certain length of time.
- POISON : Once poisoned, you must cure the condition immediately. Should you delay, the toxin will spread and decrease HP, causing a slow and painful demise.
- DISEASE : As lethal as poison, Disease once it has gained entrance into your body, can cause a slow demise. HP and MP are not recoverable. The condition must be cured by a Cleric's spell or the House Clerics.
- PARALYSIS : Be careful of paralyzing attacks, you will lose the ability to move your body. This condition can be remedied with rest, but severe cases may require a Cleric's spell or curing by the House Clerics.

EXPERIENCE POINTS (EP)

Acquiring knowledge is a lengthy task. It requires hard work and experience. As you venture, you will gather experience. The more experience you gain, the better your abilities and strengths and the higher your class level will become. Your exploits will earn you Experience Points. E.P. are gained when enemies have been vanquished and quests completed. As you gain experience, you will earn the chance to advance in levels, magic, and strength.

MAGIC POINTS (MP)

Magic should not be wasted. It is not to be played with as it is very potent. You will begin with only a small amount of spell points. As your knowledge and levels increase, so will the number of MP you possess.

LEVEL

With each new level comes strength, wisdom, and intelligence. Some gain the ability to battle larger monsters. Others, the knowledge to use more powerful spells. Levels can be gained through many avenues, but best through training and experience in battle.

HIT POINTS (HP)

It is invaluable to have a great number of Hit Points. For the warrior who possesses a high number, he or she can sustain much punishment in battle. Train often, and your maximum number of points will increase. But take heed. If your number reaches 0 in a combat, you will fall faint; more than this, and you are surely doomed.

ARMOR CLASS (AC)

The greater the Armor Class, the more protection a warrior has during a battle. You must acquire shields, protection, and such things to raise your Armor Class.

EXPERIENCE POINTS (EP)

Your adventures in Varn are bound to give you much experience in combat and cunning. Your reward is Experience Points, which, when they have reached a certain level, aid you in the advancement of levels, and the acquisition of magic and strength.

GEMS

Gems are critical to the casting of strong magical spells. Seek them wherever possible.

GOLD

Of course, you will require Gold to buy better weapons, food and drink, and the aid of certain solicitors.

FOOD

One unit of Food will feed a warrior for a day, and is direly needed by the wounded and weak. But you can only carry as much as 40 units worth.

BACK PACK

That which cannot be carried by hand must be stored in the Backpack. If you wish to use items from here, activate the "Use" function.

ARMOR, WEAPONS, & EQUIPMENT

Seven types of armor, 22 different weapons, and a wide variety of items (Rope, torches, etc..) are available for purchase. Hundreds of other items may also be discovered during your travels.

Many of the items you seek will be on sale in a town store. Choose wisely, and be frugal.

MAGIC SPELLS

Magic spells are divided amongst the clerics and sorcerers. A total of 94 spells can be learned (47 for each category).

A spell caster may cast spells at any level up to the maximum level shown in the character's profile. New spells are learned as you gain new experience.
